Friends,

This week, I signed the American Principles Project's "Big Family Pledge." The family is the foundation of our American way of life. It's essential that policymakers and civil society leaders work together to help create a culture where the family can flourish once again. The APP Big Family Pledge asserts five key points that as your representative I promise to uphold:

Americans have always understood the critical importance of the family, strength of community and the traditions that have built our country. In recent years, these time-honored American values have come under siege. Progressives ushered in an intentional campaign to degrade and destroy our nation's culture, which has weakened us both at home and abroad.

Families and the bonds of community strengthen us, woke politics will only tear us down from within. We must fight this poison with all we've got.

Congressional Democrats and President Biden have made it a priority to propagate radical, poisonous ideologies like critical race theory (CRT) in the classroom and military, denouncing our Founding Fathers, and trashing the idea of American exceptionalism.

In addition, most of our media and corporate America have gone woke, and our children are paying the price.

This phenomenon is unmistakably visible in a recent Monmouth University poll that shows how little Americans care about the progressive agenda. 33 percent of American families identified inflation as the biggest concern facing their family. In second place, 15 percent identified gas prices as their top concern. Only 5 percent of those surveyed found abortion as a priority.

Notably, only 8 percent said that President Biden and Vice President Harris' policies have helped their families and the challenges they face.

As Americans pay more at the pump and the grocery store, this administration has become fixated on transgenderism and espousing cultural rot. In fact, Biden prioritized foreign grants for "Atheism Worldwide," created a new "Transgender-Specific Program" for the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and has pushed "Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion" curriculum in the military.

Meanwhile, gas is hovering near $5 per gallon as news is breaking that the Biden Administration sold 950 million barrels of oil from the US Strategic Petroleum Reserve to a Hunter Biden-affiliated Chinese gas giant.

I sat down with Washington Watch's Tony Perkins on Wednesday to discuss the Biden Administration's failures in the face of the inflation crisis and its fixation on undermining our culture:
